"Hollow Moon"

There's a hole in the sky
With flames coming through
Dims my vision and the rains coming too
There's a rainbow on the hill
Colours I have set aside for you now

Must be an angel, maybe it's the devil too

Out at sea there's a burning light
Been there all day now on comes the night
And there's a hollow moon hanging there for you now

Must be an angel, maybe it's the devil too

And there's a calm to the night
Takes me by the hand
Dancing with seagulls upon the strand
And I'm pulling in the stars
There's so much farther I can reach with you now

Must be angel, maybe it's the devil too

And there's a hole in the sky
With flames coming through
Dims my vision and the rain's coming too
There's a rainbow on the hill
With colours I have set aside for you now

Must be an angel, maybe it's the devil too
Must be an angel, maybe it's the devil too
