The winter is leaving
The rivers are grieving through the fields
The rain that's falling
Is a ghost that has been calling for years

I wish for you the best
As you're leaving your nest
You're going over now

When will I see you again?
When will I see you again?

Spring comes through
And I think of you and there are flowers
Shadows from the sun have covered what we've done to each other
Time takes time€¦I give you mine 'cause I love you

When will I see you again?
When will I see you again?
When will I see you again?
