"All For Love"

For the one that I've I lost,
Boundaries I've crossed,
An empire that would never fall...

I took his side,
With passion and pride,
It seems I have gambled it all,
For love...

He's just a man,
I've loved just the man,
A feeling now hard to recall...

The Gods turned away,
Their game for the day,
Amazed I have squandered it all,
For love...

Into a woman's eyes you pledged the prize that she was dreaming of,
But to the ancient throne who's might is mine alone,
vows are not enough,
All for love...
