Sometimes I wonder
I wonder why things I should have done all pass me by i don't have the answers no matter how I try all the reason for living can justify

I cry for yesterday
things always in my way I keep living day by day can't find the words to say

you're all that I need you're all that I'm living for you're the air I breathe you're all that really matters now my time my time has come you're the only thing worth carrying on

as I near the end of the line you're the angel
to change my mind

you, you're my angel my shining light you're what I'm living for yuo're the air I breathe your all that really matters
