I always thought that it was true
I always thought that you had been there too
Among the million bits of sand

Everyday I come for you
I'll be there in your dreams
And you'll be there with me too

I always knew we were entwined We are three I always knew that we three were entrined Three is what are we
Beneath a hundred million stars

Every night I look for you
I'll be there in your dreams
Every night I wait for you
And you'll be there

Too
We are all we knew
We are only what is true
Amid the hundred million stars

All my days I offer you
I'll be there in your dreams
And you'll be there with me too
All my days I offer you
All my days I do

I never thought that I was wrong
I always knew we three belonged
To some primeval family

All my days I offer you
You'll be there in my dreams
And I'll be there
For you
