Go!

Well, I've been counting the days
Ever since you've been away
Wish I could find those words
That could make you stay.
My bed just hasn't been that warm in awhile
So come light my fire with your perfect smile

And people change, but I will stay the same
I love you just as much as I did yesterday

Then she said, "Boy come home,
You've been out on the road for far too long
I know, and I'll be waiting here, waiting here.
Boy come home,
You've been out on the road for far too long
I know, and I'll be waiting here, waiting here."

I tried, I tried my best to keep us alive
But with each mile I drive,
Another piece of us dies.
And paramedics couldn't save us,
Can't resuscitate us
Pumping air into our lungs.

And people change, I love you all the same,
But I don't feel the way that I did yesterday.

I'll never come back home,
This road is all I know,
This van's my only home
So don't wait for me, wait for me.
I'll never come back home,
This road is all I know,
This van's my only home
So don't wait for me, wait for me.

Come back home!
All I know!
Let me go!

Take it slow!

Let me go.
