Climbing aboard the train
I saw you left your bags
Back there at the terminal
You plan to leave this place
Without looking back

Can't say I blame you
The memories you have here
Eat at your fragile heart
So let it all be drowned
By the engine's roar

Your eyes fix forward
As we gain momentum
The tunnel ends at
The light of the day

Your life is yours
It's your path
It's your running race
The time is now to
Make your way

The landscape of your mind
Freed from oppression
Now gives to a fuller life
The future's only as bright
As you see it

See the canvas come alive
As the colors paint
A vivid sky

The light that illuminates
Your eyes

Your eyes fix forward
As we gain momentum
The tunnel ends at
The light of the day

Your life is yours
It's your path
It's your running race
The time is now to
Make your way

(Interlude)

Your eyes fix forward
As we gain momentum
The tunnel ends at
The light of the day

Your life is yours
It's your path
It's your running race
The time is now to
Make your way
