speak louder now and i'll see what you say isn't always what it is when you talk like this
When you talk like this

Stop now, say it one last time Let me guess, something inaudible
When you talk like this
When you talk like this

i'm sorry for trying to explain sometimes it's better to let it go i'm sorry for...letting it go what was it this time that made you fall we where not even there at all we where not even close so take this time, that you gave up for nothing and save it for something better. but I know that you'll spoil it all again, like the first time a possible reason for your obvious behavior i'll just keep trying, doing things like this so don't be honest, keep on lying so i don't see the lack of truth in your lies

and save it for something better.
but I know that you'll spoil it all again, like the first time

Now I feel so much sicker. But I act so nice instead; yes I act so nice instead. YEAH!

See what you learn from this here. Dropping names is whats been keeping you awake.
So take this over ground! Theyre all around you

So take this down!
