oh, the day will come, and we can begin where we had to end

youre my only true friend i cant forget you long talks and lazy days i remember those times i remember all our favorite songs oh fate can be so hard there is an empty space in this old heart of mine

if only we could go back to then yes, turn back the hands of time my friend and count the stars in the sky again

do you know theres a place waiting for you a specail place in my heart and my life yes a beautiful place waiting for you when you come home, well turn back the time i have all your letters in a box full of memories, my friend but the only thing i need is you and me together once again

im so sad i could cry though, i know theres nothing i can do you chose red, and i chose blue did what we had to but im still missing you maybe we could go back to then if only we could turn back again cause, hey, were special best of friends this song is for you til we meet again please know theres a place waiting for you

a specail place in my heart and my life

when you come home, lets turn back the time.
