So hard not to think about it it's every step I take and heaven knows i'm trying but it gets awfully hard when your heart is this broken

Visions of ur lovely face As I awake, I have this feeling that you're here and beside me how silly of me, I know

all the pain will go away so I say it, here I am again I gotta face another day I'm so tired, I need u once again oh baby

How am I suppose to carry on,
I find myself singing the same old song
If you hear me, have it in ur heart but please come back to me (oh baby)

I'll be right here if you need someone
If you hold another I'll be moving on
As easy as said
Just hope that I can see the road

Oh how it's been so long
It seems a lifetime passed These memories that linger, soon as I think they have gone they only gotten stronger And so I'm getting through a day but every move was made was always you and I together
It's hard to believe im lonely

Is there gonna be a day I can see the word to make me better
I know there has to be a way
So if you listen and hear me out girl, baby
How am I suppose to carry on,
I find myself singing the same old song

If you hear me, have it in your heart
but please come back to me (oh baby)

if u hold another one i'll be moving on
as easy as said

seven

one two three four five six seven

when you hear seven turn it up you're one in a million, dunno how we got so wrong I thought it was so simple then now I know, now I know, how it goes to let it go

Can there be a chance for you and I?
Before I really make up my mind oh how I miss you I never would diss you I'm speaking it from my heart

How am I suppose to carry on,
I find myself singing the same old song
If you hear me, have it in you heart

I'll be right here if you need someone
just hope that I can see the road come back to me baby
