[V1]

Daddy's gone, momma says he'll be comin back soon only to leave again for a month or maybe two Christmas time we get a whole few months together when daddy's home, things are much better. momma's smile is wider, her eyes are brighter you can see the love she has for dad come from inside her it makes me so happy, to see her so lit up I wish daddy was always home here for us cuz when he's gone, life just doesn't feel as right I miss him so much, wish he could tuck me in tonight instead momma does, she is always there for me I pray at night we'll wake up to daddy in the morning so it can be us three, our little family but the next day comes and again it's just mom and me I know it hurts her, dad is away so long she cares for me all by herself my mom is so strong and daddy, momma says he's workin real hard so one day we'll get our very own house and car but still at night, i look way up into the stars and pray that my dad didn't have to be so far.

So alone while daddy's gone and I, just wish that he'd come back home I wanna see that smile on mom, so daddy please don't leave us on our own yeah, daddy are you hearin me? momma and I at home feelin incomplete strugglin everyday just to get by life without you livin by my side

[V2]

Life without you by my side as I grow up I was just a baby when you started to blow up music took off, everybody was feelin it cuz every song and every beat well my daddy was killin it.
and it happened so fast it was crazy i know you just wanted to spend time with your baby but between those college engineering classes, and makin songs and doing shows for the masses time slipped by, you got caught up in it all and I went from laying down to crawling and then walkin tall before you knew it, your little boy had gotten big you were on the road and got that fame but missed all of this til one morning you came through that door storming went straight to the back to pack and you almost ignored me until you told me sorry leaned over and gave me a kiss walked out the door, no lookin back, that was it, daddy's gone,
