[V1]

So much emotion bottled up, insides tickin toward explosion veins runnin thick, overdosed on love potion trapped in this crazy, body in a rage lost all of control, belligerent motions I swear I'm cut so deep down can't nothing take me lower than you've taken me now I can't see my way out thank God I can make a beat loud open up my mouth and spit all of you out ah, it's over baby no never to happen again this the last time you be gettin up under my skin I never ever needed you anyway Im bout to kill the future, and throw the past away go on without you and set my life's path ablaze you coulda been by my side and added to the flame live out your dreams with the fortune and the fame but now instead, you're nothin but another name

[HOOK]

It's times like these when life cuts deep there don't seem to be a way out and as i bleed up on this beat I'm singing RIP to the past now Yeah, cuz I'm over you P to the J is back baby oh it's true, uh I said it and it's long overdue it's me myself and I, no more you, we're through

[V2]

You got my heart beatin out these minor tones Every key I play reverberates that i'm alone every string I strum echoes out that you ain't home they be sayin "get over you" but I don't hear them like a silent phone ringing, ringing, deep down in my brain thought of you implanted in me bout to make me go insane so I turn up the volume to this beat, let out all my pain eternal sunshine of a spotless mind, forget you and your name yeah, you was never nothing, how could it be that months down the road your image still eats at me the outline of those curves still what I need to see It's like your essence lingers up in the air I breathe enters inside penetrates me so low I'm sick of this and I ain't having it no more this my last straw, I'm down to my last strand I've held myself up with everything that I can and as this beat loops through, who'd a knew I still really ain't over you? alone again, only friend is this pen, maybe I will fell better if I just bring this chorus in ah!
