Signs of doubt
That keeps me rushed
And far from grounded
You see the endless blame

I see the faceless wander
I see the fire and flames
But the light is over
Is over

Cold as war
And scarred from all the life
That finds me
You think I would know by now
(The day is gone away)
The day is gone away

I see the violent rage
And make the great escape
Into the space that give me closure
We live the life we make
Until the seasons over
Is over

Cold as war
And scarred from all the life
That finds me
You think I would know by know
(The day is gone away)

Cold as war
And scarred from all the life
That finds me
You think I would know by know
(The day is gone away)
The day is gone away

You think I would know by now

Cold as war
And scarred from all the life

That finds me
You think I would know by know
(The day is gone away)

Cold as war
And scarred from all the life
That finds me
You think I would know by know
(The day is gone away)
The day is gone away
