It's not supposed to hurt this much
But it can never feel the same again
I'm left with nothing
But the memory of the way you used to feel
I guess you finally took the deepest cut
I guess the blade on my tongue was just too much
Every word that I said came from my dark side
Now this emptiness is real

You reach beneath the surface more..

So go and leave me with my last regret
Let me feel the way you left me dead
Too blind to see
You stole my honesty

I think about the time we've lost
I think about the time
The silence could be words
And now the only sound I hear
Is my guilty conscience
Screaming out your name

You reach beneath the surface more..
So go and leave me with my last regret
Let me feel the way you left me dead
Too blind to see
You stole my honesty
So go and leave me with my last regret
Let me feel the way you left me dead
Go away and steal my thoughts of Honesty

Take back everything I said
A new place for us to begin
Take back everything...
Take back everything...
Take back everything I said

So go and leave me with my last regret
Let me feel the way you left me dead
Too blind to see
You stole my honesty

So go and leave me with my last regret
Let me feel the way you left me dead
Go away and steal my thoughts of Honesty
