So do I really believe
Caught up and twisted, she's hardly completed
Now I'm out of time and full of hate
If nothing will change you, nothing will ever change

'Cause all that I need from you now you can't see
Take my last breath to say this
Your broken world left me homeless
Every time I pray but nothing would change
I'll take my last breath now, I hope I find my way

What else in this world could happen to me?
Always convicted, you're simply defeated
It kills me that I've never found that saving grace
That gave you the shelter you needed for one more day

'Cause all that I need from you now you can't see
Take my last breath to say this
Your broken world left me homeless
Every time I pray but nothing would change
I'll take my last breath now, I hope I find my way

Call it madness, call it tragic
Have you heard enough?
Take my last breath, take my last breath
Take my last breath, take my last breath

Take my last breath to say this
Your broken world left me homeless
Every time I pray but nothing would change
I'll take my last breath now, I hope I find my way
Find my way
