Your faceless attitude
Comes catching up to you
You wrote his name in blood
You thought you were in love

You've fallen oh so far
To get to where you are
You bring a stranger home
To know you're not alone

Tell me where you are
Help me heal your scar

All you want to be is
More than simple things but
I'll be there when you come down
I'll be waiting for you

What happened in your past
That made your heart go black?
You used to be the one
But now you've come undone

Your smile has long since past
I wish you'd try and laugh
The world is not so cold
Your hate is getting old

Tell me where you are
Help me heal your scar

All you want to be is
More than simple things but
I'll be there when you come down
I'll be waiting for you
All you want to be is
More than simple things but
I'll be there when you come down
I'll be waiting for you

I'll be waiting for you

I'll be waiting for you

All you want to be is
More than simple things
I'll be there when you come down
I'll be waiting for you

All you want to be is
More than simple things but
I'll be there when you come down
I'll be waiting for you

It's all you want to do
I'll be there when you come down
I'll be waiting for you
