"Love"

I've been here much too long it seems
I've washed away with all my dreams
The same is said as well with you
I'm losing my mind

Come crashing in you start to stare
But I believe there's no one there
I'm seeing all the faces now
Into the light

But it's love I thought that we'd be making
But all the time it's taking to find you
I don't know love

Empty now the promises
We live without just saying this
All in all the stranger truth
Is living a lie

'Cause it's love I thought that we'd be making
But all the time it's taking to find you
I don't know love

Love
Love

Love I thought that we'd be making
But all the time it's taking to find you
I don't know
Love could be the one to save me
Though I know it may break me to find you
But I don't know love
