here she comes again
here comes that girl we were once good friends but all that had to end but where she go to then? well she went off somewhere someplace alone,
with the wind,
and the sunshine
and i'm crying again all my tears are in vain.

so there she goes again but she'll be back someday someday soon she'll stay til may or june and run away again
maybe go to the seaside when she leaves it's alone and your tears they mean nothing when your crying again cause you're crying in vain
