Just hold me, please don't speak
No need to say a word
Let me look into your eyes
Lose myself just one more time

A journey is ending and here I am Trying to turn the hands of time
Back to when your heart was mine
Still trying

Love is out of reach, it's gone
And though it's been slipping for a thing just for so long
Taste me up inside to find that I'm
Still holding on to something that just is a man

Release me, set me free
Untie this heart of mine
Cause i'm caught inside this dream
Where you and I were meant to be, I just can't believe

Love is out of reach, it's gone
And though it's been slipping for a thing just for so
long
Still holding on to something that just is a man

Love is out of reach, oh no no
Love is out of reach

And I can't walk away, no. I don't wanna let go
But it's late of me
