It's gonna cave right now, gonna give in somehow
Are you prepared to catch when I'm falling?
Taking another step, going for no regrets
I hope you see me now as your calling

And everybody will find a little love sometime
Standing in the waiting line
I just wanna claim what's mine
Cause everybody will find a little love somewhere
I know you can take me there
Conquering my biggest fear of losing you, my dear, oh

The end of another show, burning the afterglow
You've got the means to set me on fire
So hopelessly wide awake, aware of the things at stake
You've got the means to quench my desire

And everybody will find a little love sometime
Standing in the waiting line
I just wanna claim what's mine
Cause everybody will find a little love somewhere
I know you can take me there
Conquering my biggest fear of losing you, my dear, oh

Cause everybody will find a little love sometime (love sometime)
Standing in the waiting line (waiting line)
I just wanna claim what's mine
Cause everybody (everybody) will find a little love somewhere (love somewhere)
I know you can take me there (take me there)
Conquering my biggest fear of losing you
