Some infatuations come with sugarcoated feelings to the maximum
All emotions overrun, and a little loving weighs a ton Suddenly the patterns of the stars are starting to make sense and the way you are Compared to how you were before, saying something
'bout the things in store

In every corner of the world, there's a boy who meets a girl
And he'll keep hanging on forever

Somebody told me there's a place like home just down the road around the bend
I'll see you again
Must be a thousand ways to find someone, love is rewarding in the end
I'll be coming 'round time and again (time and again)
I'll do it for you (I'll do it for you)
There's nothing else (time and again) that I want to do

Some infatuations come with sugarcoated feelings to
the maximum
All emotions overrun, and a little loving weighs a ton

Somebody told me there's a place like home just down
the road around the bend
I'll see you again
Must be a thousand ways to find someone, love is
rewarding in the end
I'll be coming 'round time and again (time and again)
I'll do it for you (I'll do it for you)
There's nothing else (time and again) that I want to do (hey hey hey)
