Welcome to Cathy's world
It's not a normal world
But it's your world and it's my world
Your world and it's my world

Her mother she drinks too much
Her father he likes to touch her
When the lights are low
Wants nobodies to know

And he said, won't you please come home now
Won't you please come home now

Welcome to Cathy's world
It's not a nice world
But it's your world and it's our world
Your world and it's our world

Some mothers they drink too much
Some fathers they like to touch
Others garbled mind
No lover being kind

And he said, won't you please come home now
Won't you please come home now

I won't forget you
I'll never forgive you
I won't forget you
I'll never forgive you
I won't forget you
I'll never forgive you
I won't forget you
I'll never forgive you
I won't forget you
I'll never forgive you
