We could go outside for some air
I could lie and tell you I care
All the jokes I never told you
Don't seem funny once you've gone

But it means that much to you
Take that much to you
Means that much to you
Take it it's not enough

There's not enough love in me left

All the lies I always said
All the truths you always held
And the fact you'll never know
Don't seem funny once you've gone

But it means that much to you
Take that much to you
Means that much to you
Take it it's not enough
Never enough

So I've said all I wanna say
Is that obvious anyway
And it's hard the way you fall
But it's not as if I know

But it means that much to you
Take that much from you
Means that much to you
Take it it's not enough
It's never enough
