If you knew everything
That I try to say
When you wrap me 'round you
But I never stay
'Cause you've got the kiss
To steal what I lifted
Out of the hollow
Heart that I give

I'm balancing fear with you in my hands
I'm balancing joy with tears in my eyes
I'm balancing sorrow drinking for the laugh again
Waiting on the line for the sun to rise

Stumbling through the scene of the crime
Hiding the clues, wasting your time
'Cause I know it hurts
I know how it feels
To lose the balance and fall away from you

I'm balancing fear with you in my hands
I'm balancing joy with tears in my eyes
I'm balancing sorrow drinking for the laugh again
Waiting on the line for the sun to rise

If you knew everything
That I try to say
When you wrap me 'round you
But I never stay
'Cause You've got the kiss
To steal what I lifted
Out of the hollow
Heart that I give
