Staring on into night

Complete synapse

I switched on something I did not see

May I leave? I believe I might

This sweet collapse

Baby, I cannot get me free

When you've got your fazer eyes on me

Driving on into where

I do not know

Shores that once were by the sea

I'm seeing something that is not there

It's so fast it's slow

And it's playing with my memory

And you've got your fazer eyes on me

Accustomed to the frequency of glow, oh yeah

You won't be frightened of the real thing after the show
