Love came through as darkness fades
Love shine through and heal my pain
More than words could ever say
I've never felt this way
It carries me through from day to day
The beauty of your face... oh

Flowers bloom then fade away
The love stays true, it's here to stay
More than words could ever say
I've never felt this way
It carries me through from day to day
The beauty of your face... oh

More than words could ever say
I've never felt this way
It carries me through from day to day
The beauty of your face
