I just wanna disappear
And run far away from here
Push all my problems to the side
Cause thees nothing left for me to hide
I just wanna break away
From everyone of my mistakes
Bet all my chances on regret
Start a new life and forget cause

Everywhere I turn I find myself in the same situations
That I've tried to avoid one too many times
And maybe it's time for me to just move on with my life

But first I'm gonna shake this town tonight
For the last time I'll leave it all behind
Because I promised myself the world this time
I just wanna wake up from this bad dream
Take flight on who I really wanna be
And I still got some tricks up my sleeve
And I'm hoping they take me to where I wanna be

I'm over this stupid town
Same faces same places
Where everyone meets to let loose
But god knows that's not me
And I've been trying to get up from the moment that I fell
Never count on luck because I know it always fails me

Everywhere I turn I find myself in the same situations
That I've tried to avoid one too many times
And maybe it's time for me to just move on with my life

But first I'm gonna shake this town tonight
For the last time I'll leave it all behind
Because I promised myself the world this time
I just wanna wake up from this bad dream
Take flight on who I really wanna be
And I still got some tricks up my sleeve
And I'm hoping they take me to where I wanna be

But first I'm gonna shake this town tonight
For the last time I'll leave it all behind
Because I promised myself the world this time
I just wanna wake up from this bad dream
Take flight on who I really wanna be
And I still got some tricks up my sleeve
And I'm hoping they take me to where I wanna be

But first I'm gonna shake this town tonight
For the last time I'll leave it all behind
Because I promised myself the world this time
I just wanna wake up from this bad dream
Take flight on who I really wanna be
And I still got some tricks up my sleeve
And I'm hoping they take me to where I wanna be
