By now I've seen it all Live the same day over and over
The world's become so small Slipping by the second
Deeper into gray
Until I look into your eyes
Until you say my name - never the same

Under your spell - you mystify me
After the world runs out of magic give me something to believe
I'm under your spell ?you mystify me
After the world gives up on magic you'll be the one I still believe

Starving for the real thing
Sick of shams and the lies
You show up - a dose of lightning
Opening up the sky - before my eyes

Under your spell- you mystify me
After the world runs out of magic give me something to
After the world gives up on magic you'll be the one I
still believe

Make my heart start beating
The sun and the moon collide
Stars will fall out in the street
When I see you tonight

After the world runs out of magic give me something to
After the world gives up on magic you'll be the one I
still believe
