(Hook)

Ex girl telling me how to please her
My mind keep telling me I should leave her
My dad keep telling me I should make it
My cousin keep telling me I'm a leader
My granny keep telling me I should pray
My friends keep telling me about a diva
Wee keep telling me take a flight
But I don't wanna end up like alias so

(Verse)

I'm riding down for winger
Hoping I don't get pulled over with all this anger
Finger to the world still hoping they feel this bang up
Barely enough money to fill my little tanker Sky keep telling me to get a single
But the radio telling me be a singer
I don't wanna be a sell out but really I ain't selling shit neither
Something gotta switch, yeah I'm taking a lot of trips
Don't get me twisting and think I got a grip
Just for you to hear me I gotta deal with a lot of shit
What's be going but then I deal with the politics
Guy keep telling me going, stay strong
And James keep telling me I'ma be on
So I'ma keep telling the truth and we gon' all get along

But I don't wanna end up like alias so

(Verse)

I get on the phone, car keys in the morning I'm all alone
No sleep and I've been working on this song Can't seem to get it right, what's goin on

I'm stressed out like er'thing's going wrong
Fake friends and enemies on my door
I should be worried about succes
But I'm worried 'bout them sitting at home letting time run
Or you better watch on my timeline
Meanwhile watching my mind run, all she ever wanted was a ring time prime
Now she watching the sun blow up that's a time tomb
But something keep telling me they gon' hate it
But my mind keep telling me go and make it
And my heart keep telling me tell the truth
Pretty soon I'm gon' be their favourite
