The burning of your eyes will fade out
As you watch them burn to hell I can't watch
Is there nothing we can do I hate this
The man that stands today is stripped down
They've pushed it too far!

My god
Now there gone,
Families torn
No leg to stand on

Families torn as we accept the death we won't revive
The path into this black field with all the shame all the fame
So they force this oath upon us
IT'S A LIE

I don't see any hope that's rising
So leave this place with what you can
The lies don't wash the blood from their hands
They've pushed it too far!

My god
Now there gone, families torn
No leg to stand on

As you blackout my mind I see the man I should have been
Could my life have been more or less

Why not think of consequences that are dire you'll leave your men by the wayside Don't take us for being feeble-minded, you'll see this war is ending - disaster
