I guess you 're wondering why I brought you here
It seemed like such a good idea at the time
I was thinking you would sort things out
If I could just explain away the consequences

Please meet me on neutral ground
It's not fair to me when you smile
Promise you won't see through me
A promise of time
Sorry that the place is such a mess
Things all piled up at once I guess
How can you look at me like I'm insane
All I want to give you is some understanding
