(Bryan Adams - Robert J. Lange)

Turn out the lights and close the door
Put your head on the pillow let me keep you warm
I wanna run my hands across your face
Lyn' beside you is still the perfect place.

We're still going strong so glad that you came along
Babe in every way you're still beautiful to me
I just have to say you're still beautiful to me.

Lay back baby, and close your eyes
Let me do everything that your heart desires
When I think of the years making love to you
There still ain't nothing that I'd rather do.

There's something I can't deny
You sure know how to move this guy
Baby in every way you're still beautiful to me
I just have to say you're still beautiful to me.

(And it still feels good.)

Yeah, yeah, it still feels good, it still runs deep
When you get close, babe, I still get weak
'Cause in these arms is where you belong
We're still going strong so glad that you came along.

Hey babe, your still number one
Baby can't you see you're still beautiful to me
Yeah, you'll always be so beautiful to me
Oh, huh, in every way you're still beautiful to me.

So beautiful babe, it still runs deep
Lay back and close your eyes
Everything that your heart desires
Yeah, yeah, uh huh, I can't believe my eyes...
