and what i say is what i know
and what i know is what my senses say and what my senses say is this that where i am scared to go is bliss and what i dare to take on makes my day and what i do is what i feel and what i feel is where is where i have to go and where i go is where you are my love my fear my beating heart, my simple answer that i never know
