The men in suits are here,
They'll tell how to live your life
And why their plans are good for you
You know - You're their only priority
Election time, voters are kings

The holy war has just begun
And they are fighting for their principles
The holy war has just begun
A holy war has just begun

An illusion so real
I had to dedicate my life
To make you see through, break the ice
You know - There are dangers for you and me
We're making waves, they don't like it

The holy war has just begun
And they are fighting for their principles
The holy war has just begun
A war of words, lawyers and guns

Back in business the men in suits are here
We thought we could stand up and fight
Demystifying all their lies
Now you know - The true meaning of freedom of speech
A diamond glow we must cherish

The holy war has just begun
And they are fighting for their principles
The holy war has just begun
The holy war has just begun
The holy war has just begun
And it's a war of principles
The holy war has just begun
A war of whores, lyers and scum!
