Some people never ever seem to grow
They spend their whole lives waiting for the show
The Hell they live in seems so nice you know
They wasted so much time and it just flows

I can feel it coming on around me now
Never thought I could see
I can feel it going down around me now
Never thought I could be
Left to wander in my last hello

Inside they fail and wither all to grey
The Hell that is their life just fades away

I can feel it coming on around me now
Never thought I could see
I can feel it going down around me now
Never thought I could be
Left to wander in my last hello

(Solo)

I can feel it coming on around me now
Never thought I could see
I can feel it going down around me now
Never thought I could be
I can feel it coming on around me now
Never thought I could see
Left to wander in my last hello
(In my last hello)
