"Hold Fast"

Conformity! Will be the death of you
These waves will drag you under
You've fallen victim to the deep
You'll never reach the surface
As you asphyxiate
The depths have claimed another

This storm will never pass
The blue is so inviting

Can you hear it! ?

What has it come to?
Oppressed and suffocated
The waters creep into your lungs
Just close your eyes and drift away

Anchored down the pressures rising
The twilight fades you're sinking further
Your final breath is all you hold dear
Just close your eyes and drift away

Just when you feel like giving in
You're almost there
Just when you feel like giving up
You're almost there

Feels like the weight of the world is Constantly pulling you under Familiar voices break the silence
Open your eyes the tide has changed!

I feel the breeze upon my face
It should be over by now
Time to wake up
It consumes me
It isn't over now!

You can breath again!

Left to drown in a sea of sorrow

A wake of regret has been stirred

What has it come to?

Oppressed and suffocated
The sea air fills your lungs

Open your eyes and sail away
Sail away
Hold fast until your sun has set
Your sun has set

Open your eyes and sail away!
