I feel it chasing me around
I can't seem to shake it down
I can't seem to get rid of this feeling
That I've been turned around

I know it can't find me here
But there's still the feelings that I fear
I don't know when it comes for me
But all I know is what I see

I can't remember what I loved
About this place where I've been thrown
All I know is I want to be free
Of all that's been forever wrecking me

I feel it tracking me down the town
No matter where I run I can't escape
I feel it moving closer to me
I want to run away and scream

I run faster away from the light
Where I know it likes to stray
Block the darkness from my sight
And my life is forever strained

I can't remember what I loved
About this place where I've been thrown
All I know is I want to be free
Of all that's been forever wrecking me

What did I love
About this place
What did I like
About this face
What can I stand
In a world gone mad
Where what I loved
Doesn't live anymore

All I know is what is left
Is an empty shell of grief and despair

I want to leave this place
Where I have become all I've feared
All I've feared

What did I love
About this place
What did I like
About this face
What can I stand
In a world gone mad
Where what I loved
Doesn't live anymore

What did I love
What did I care
About this world
Where nothing's fair
What did I love
In this place
In this disgrace
In this sad erased part of space

What did I love
When what I loved
Is gone
