Faster
Moving faster
Than light can reach the stars
Moving
Moving faster
Than you can make your mark

Running
Running away
You just don't think you can face it
So you move
Running away
You don't think you're fast enough

It's calling
Beyond to me
It's calling
From beyond the stars and the sun
It's calling
Calling for me to help you
To find what you're looking for

You're running away
You're running away
From the people you love
The people you hate
Everything you're running away from now

Smarter
Getting smarter
You're hiding from demons so they can't find you
Getting
Getting smarter
You're stealing away in the pouring rain now

Running
Running away
Running from all your daily struggles
You're moving
Running away
From everything you could ever love then

It's calling
Beyond to me
It's calling
From beyond the stars and the sun
It's calling
Calling for me to help you
To find what you're looking for

You're running away
You're running away
From the people you love
The people you hate
Everything you're running away from now

I know what
You're going through
See my wrist
It bleeds now too

The day-to-day
The night-to-night
You and I both
Live not to fight
To run
To run
To run

You and I both
Live not to fight
To run
To run away
Away
Away
Away

It's calling
Beyond to me
It's calling
From beyond the stars and the sun
It's calling
Calling for me to help you
To find what you're looking for

You're running away
You're running away
From the people you love
The people you hate
Everything you're running away from now

You're running away

Don't run from me
From people you love
People you hate
Don't run from everything now
I won't run from everything now
If you won't run from everything
If you won't run away

Don't run away
Don't run away
Don't run away
Don't run away
Away
