He keeps on trying all he can
Doesn't pull to the other side of the road
To get rid of his emotions

She keeps on pushing all she does
She asks out every single one she can because she Can't stand to be alone

But if they'd come together
They'd find a friend in each other

He just hit the bottom of his luck
He just doesn't understand the way life works for unfortunate people

She's got rock bottom down solid cold
She just doesn't understand the way life works for those not made of solid gold

But if they'd come together
They'd find a friend in each other
They'd find a friend in each other now

So if you're alone
Join together hands
And let's pray for luck
While we still can

So if you're alone
Join together now
And let's pray for luck
While we still can

He smashed his head into the wall today
He doesn't know the way that God wants to work for him and anyone else

She pushed herself off the bridge today
Cause she can't the thing she's looking for to change her life for the better
For the better

But if they'd come together
They'd find a friend in each other
They'd find a friend in each other now

So if you're alone
Join together hands
And let's pray for luck
While we still can

So if you're alone
Join together now
And let's pray for luck
While we still can

And if they'd just come together
They would find a friend in each other
They would find a friend in each other
They would find a friend in each other
Now

So if you're alone
Join together now
While we still can

And if you're alone
Join together today
Let's pray for love
Let's pray
While we still can
While we still can
While we can

Peace be with this couple on their wedding-day
