Burnz-

Days go by and these clouds forming above me keep me wondering so mesmerized
I feel free I feel free oh so free
In this world I live
Everybody's happy and nobody wants to sin
But oh my I seem to have awoken
I hear the whispers in my ear that where so softly spoken
That other world does not seem to exist
No matter how I pray at night you'll never grant my wish Where is this world I seek where is this world I seek

Raul-

So many questions just sittin and reminising
Why of all these places am I trapped in this dimension Is there no life on some other planet?
One that I can dream of and potentially inhabit Silly rabbit those question are for kids Oops I lost my train of thought what's this song about again?
What is life? I hope you get the answers right Sit back relax and watch these days go by

Burnz-

Days go by and these clouds forming above me keep

I feel free I feel free oh so free

Everybody's happy and nobody wants to sin
But oh my I seem to have awoken

spoken
That other world does not seem to exist
No matter how I pray at night you'll never grant my wish Where is this world I seek where is this world I seek

Raul-

Oh I don't know much about this crazy life we live it seems like all that we can do is try and start over again I've learned my lesson time is of the essence days go by so fast I'm not wasting another second these days go by my questions stay unanswered minutes turn to hours as the world revolves much faster when times are hard and you're not sure who you are look inside yourself and the answers will never be too far

Burnz-

Days go by and these clouds forming above me keep
me wondering so mesmerized
I feel free I feel free oh so free
In this world I live
Everybody's happy and nobody wants to sin
But oh my I seem to have awoken
