(Verse)

Well it's that optical polygraph that walk this path at A steady pace

And make a change every day but keep the same face

I stay at home even if I'm in a strange place you
Falsify notions that you can occupy the same space

So let's face it (What) I rhyme so I don't have to Break my back makin' slave wages and build with cats
That keep the turf wet in the dry season

When some find it pleasing to tacksqueezing they Skillet cooking up kix and clothes on they back and as Far as your cap

Man that peelin' shits for older man we foldin' it back
Because the O's for Origami when I got my people by me
Best believe me when you see me you don't even want to
Try me

I don't drink Dasani 'cause I switched to Aquafina even Though Coka Cola Says the tinted bottles cleaner

Huh, there's more to life so I guess the plots thicker
Then gettin' these points across like CNN Star Tickers

And brother's be like Yo Wyzard I want to rock wit cha
But forgot to hit you up 'cause I was suckin' on that Swisher

I'm drinkin hard liquor Wit no mixer wit my browser at [Google Alta Vistry] searchin' for ways to get cha

Eye detector

(Refrain)

Because we see it all, but recognize what we want to
A problem ain't such until the circumstance confronts
You and keep you backing up until there ain't no where
To run to and [comic/carnic] implication builds a wall
You can't run through

Eye detector

Eye detector

(Even if you know the words, do some special, careful Listening)

(Verse)

I keep acquaintance with beings of light that share in My plight revolutionary types that lay patient until
The food is right but cut it off into your life with a Knife the size of this [rocks twice] but um

Sense 'em as your everything but megabytes as if this,
The width of Jupiter wouldn't suffice

In this case, I plant seeds like keys in your brain for You to misplace you slippin' like you skating on boards
Without the grip tape by thinkin' it could never be you
And that's a mistake

I'm sacrificing money for truth and it shows every time
I spit a rhyme in the booth

But understand that if you in this industry and hold a Gun because you nervous It's probably because you got
Credit and don't deserve it It's probably because you
Were wicked and self-servant It's probably because we Could notice you're uncertain and out of nowhere you Might find yourself hurtin' at the end of accepting It's time to close curtain

Eye detector

(Refrain)

Eye Detector

Eye Detector

Eye Detector

Eye Detector

(What ever I see I attack, tack)

But I can see through you

(Wow! Look at that)

But I can see through you

(Hey, we've given our ears lots of exercise and our Eyes and our mouth and, yes, our heads too. Thanks for Joining me)
