The bruise still warm
The beast to come
The road to frankfort far too long
But could you keep that to yourself?
The visions haunt
The dreams ignite
The firewood set up inside
But could you keep this to yourself?
So why d'you have to kill me with such pressure while I
Check in
The boarding starts, yet you go on
The seat belt tied up round my hips before the take-off
(But)
Orange county here I come

The moments pass
Your freaking task
Come to blame me for your awful past
You've got to stop your pessimism
So could you keep this to yourself?
Burry the bargain's burden belt
The designations of your thoughts become their one and
Only source
So why can't you just keep this to yourself
Burry the bargain's burden belts
The designation of your thoughts
