You turned and left me and that's why I don't hold you as tight.

I'm sick of seeing that sight.

If you turn and look then you might, you'll see that you should be with me and I can't erase those memories. You left with him but know you'll see that you and me are meant to be. (That you and me are meant to be)

It's day one (day one) and you're gone I don't wanna see your pretty face again.

It's day two (day two) and I hate you, you poisoned me for far too long.

It's day three (day three) and you've fucked me (fucked me) why don't you get the hell outta my life.

The pain is piercing my heart and I can't believe it went this far.

A struggle to reach my sanity.

A battle with this enemy.

You're nothing like I thought and now I think I ought to push you and this life away.

So maybe I'll find my way (So maybe I'll find my way)

It's day one (day one) and you're gone I don't wanna see your pretty face again.

It's day two (day two) and I hate you, you poisoned me for far too long.

It's day three (day three) and you've fucked me (fucked me) why don't you get the hell outta my life.

It's day one (day one) and you're gone I don't wanna see your pretty face again.

It's day two (day two) and I hate you, you poisoned me for far too long.

It's day three (day three) and you've fucked me (fucked me) why don't you get the hell outta my life.
