

Purpose: Failed "Salvation"

Welcome to this world of pain and torture, one that grows worse with the Passing of time.
We are slipping further into this darkness.
Who is here to save us as we suffer the fall.

You lay me down to rest with another bullet in my chest.
Their judgement will pass swift and sure.
In the depths of despair a new salvation is rising.
There is no time to stop and stare.

Stand with me, my brother.
Together we will fight, he cannot withstand our own
might.
We are stronger than before.
We'll bring this fucker down, we'll burn his face right to
the ground.

A leader we see as a king to all men, with the power to end this pain and Torture.
With the hand of god he could set them free but instead of giving hope he brings death and despair.

You lay me down to rest with another bullet in my chest.
Their judgement will pass swift and sure.
In the depths of despair a new salvation is rising.
There is no time to stop and stare.

Stand with me, my brother.
Together we will fight, he cannot withstand our own
might.
We are stronger than before.
We'll bring this fucker down, we'll burn his face right to
the ground.

Hope can save us all and hope can make us fall.
Hope can save us all but hope can make us fall.
Hope can save us all
Hope can make us fall.
Hope can save us all

Hope can make us fall.
