I didn't take my point - but it's quite plain to me
It makes me take my choice and it makes me wanna scream
It's no kind of revenge - and really not a spree
I have take my choice and have to know the need in deed

But it's too complicated - I can't show what could be Real
It's an impasse and I hate it - but it makes wanna feel
I wanna take it down - the most hard way to me

But cannot wait until there is no need for it to be

Scream - to the world inside
It's something special in my inner pride

But where am I?

Where am I in this crying game
What I feel what I want is not to defame
I hate to see this barfaced lie
The more you ask for by and by
Where - am - I -?
"where am I?"
