Open a new door and close the one behind
I'm scared of what's ahead
I'm scared of what I'll find
I've been waiting all my life to find the one that's right
Are you somewhere out in space, somewhere in this place

And I wonder where you are
Are you driving in your car
And I'm trying to see your face
I've been searchin' endless days

When will I find you dear
Without you my world's unclear
I hope that I'll find you soon
And the day that you find me too
I can't wait to tell you how
I've been searching my whole life for you
For you =)

Wondering waiting anticipating
Because my heart is longing, lingering lonely
Day dream drowning me slowly softly
Symphonies rehearse as you pass me
Speaking, reaching, but you fade ghostly, you lost me
Praying constantly for the love which a waits
In time it will all take place, I need to keep the faith
As I embrace you love
Heaven sent shining blessings from above

When will I find you dear
Without you my world's unclear
I hope that I'll find you soon
And the day that you find me too
I can't wait to tell you how
I've been searching my whole life for you
You'll be silly and I'll make you laugh
We'll watch the sunset and I'll tell you that
I've been searching my whole life for you
For you
