"Today"

I've listened to the words you have to say
They ring inside my empty head and stay
I've stumbled on the shadow of your doubt
Becoming something you can do without

We go our separate ways
Today you went away
Blow out the burning flame
Cuzz you don't feel the same anymore

Endless days and nights we spend together
Every memory will you remember always
All the times I wish would last forever
Echo in my head! I wished you'd never gone away
Today, Today

So this is all I really have to say
The words inside my heart just run away
I'm surrounded by this never-ending rain
Caught beneath the glass of picture frames

So this is my way of letting go x 2
Letting go x 4
(Left to figure it out all over again
Left to be swept away by the vast wind
Left lonely, lonely to start again
It's hard, staring at the very end)
