Failed attempts in understanding only brought me here consequently i just wanted you today clearly it was the apprehension that stained the ceiling draw back the curtains so I can see clutching fists and crystal dreams they fall here see through eyes just to wonder why i just want to follow falling faster just to find out counting times you've still to mention

give away your heart
it fades with these daydreams(x2)

i know what this meant your downfall still sets the stereo see through my eyes just to wonder why i just want to follow falling faster just to find out

it fades with these daydreams(x2)

your truth is all I know of course its just for me I say it has to end so listen well i will begin you say I am over loved I say there's nothing left to hide the path is mine
I will decide

give away your heart
it fades with these daydreams(x2)
