ULTIMUS CENSOR

Since you broke up with me months ago,
I lived in complete isolation,
Was unable to mingle with the crowd,
Stayed at home, thinking what's all about.
My life was so empty without you,
I often thought I couldn't make it.
Inside, I felt a strong greed for life,
For love and mutual understanding.
I bought an outfit, trendy and hip,
Went to a coiffeur to change my style,
Came home, was mutated to beguile,
Looking forward to my nightly trip.
Now I'm ready for new adventures,
Hope to find a man who shares his bed
With me, a woman who needs fulfillment,
With me, a lonely woman dressed in red.
I KNOW IT WILL BE MY NIGHT, MY NIGHT!
