Yeah, ah, yeah, aha, yeah, what, only you baby, only you

I reminisce, and think of how we used to be,
I bought roses, we kissed and you were holding me, walking down the streets of our hometown, getting down, wasting money, just fooling around, we felt free, like birds in the sky, I want you to get everything, if I should die high on hopes on our own dreams and scenes got a ticket for a ride to reach the bright side baby, there's a better life, no tears, no fears, no hate, no strife, no pain Yo, I'mma do the first, You'll write me a letter that will ease my thirst And then, sweetheart after you follow me to the city of love, where we'll both gonna be with a shy goodbye we made our own choice as I sat on the train then I heard your sweet voice

All I needed was the love you gave all I needed for another day and all I ever knew
only you

All I needed was the love you gave (all I needed) all I needed for another day (just one more day)
only you
(You and me)

I found a good job and a place to stay, but luck's been missing since you left my way, when I called you on the phone, you spoke so sweet, of love, devotion, faith and how you missed me but in the instance I begin to feel that my mind's been played like a game on the wheel stealing my heart, I see a man by your side, giving you the life I tried but I couldn't provide these dreams we shared are just souvenirs, yours for glad laughters, and mine for sad tears, last night we talked and you didn't say much, I told you that I love you, you said We'll keep in touch I sit back and remember how it used to be back then, you and me together again those dreams and wishes are where they belong, some in my heart, and the rest in your song

All I needed was the love you gave (all I needed) all I needed for another day (for another day) and all I ever knew (is only you)
only you

All I needed was the love you gave (all the day) all I needed for another day (another day)
and all I ever knew

Padadada, padadada, padadada, padadada (x2) Padadada, padadada, padadada, padadada

All I needed was the love you gave
only you

All I needed was the love you gave (all I needed)
all I needed for another day (just one more day)
